Radio—A Problem

While criticism is the lot of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation and all across said, possibly, most of it is justified, there cannot but be some feeling of sympathy for the members of an organization whose "customers" embrace such a wide range of "viewpoint and taste as the Canadian radio fans.

Those who take the time to secure all the facts and data available on the subject—and that it isn't just an easy task—cannot help but be impressed with the belief that the C.B.C. is a tight corner if it attempts to believe the impossible, and that is, to please everybody.

There is no one here to have to take the responsibility of absolute unanimity of opinion on the type of program that is acceptable to the listeners, to touch only one of the many problems that face the Commission. How much more difficult then, must it be, to satisfy a minority, or a community, or the province or the nation. Even if it were possible to ascertain with any degree of accuracy the desires of a local community, it does not follow that any tinyissima faction that a similar verdict would be given by a majority in entire community and that may be, undoubtedly, are variations in taste in different parts of the Dominion, and possibly between each and every city.

Yet the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation is expected to give all the people what they want in the way of music, entertainment and education and to do so in a manner that will be acceptable to all.

Guiding Principles

Under such conditions about all the C.B.C. can be expected to do is to lay down certain fundamental principles for the guidance of its officials and to make it as possible as possible to adhere to them. It is not possible to show that they are on the wrong track.

There is one policy, however, which in the interests of the development of Canadian arts should not be slighted, and that is the maximum use of Canadian local and national talent wherever it can be unearthed or can be encouraged and developed.

There is reason to believe, judging from comments made by adjustment officers recently, that the C.B.C. is not doing as well as it should in the festive in the western provinces, that there is much to be done in the very high order which is being allowed to go to waste, or, if not actually being wasted, is being made more generally available to the community. It does not follow that the effort it should be, or could be, if the C.B.C. were proceeding a vigorous search for good material of Canadian origin.

A Major Objective

When the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation was set up it was announced that one of its objectives would be to develop Canadian talent. In fact, this was one of the strongest recommendations of the Airt Commission in 1937. The Commission had no doubt that the development of Canadian talent was one of the most important objectives of the Corporation. It was in our survey of conditions in Canada we have heard the present radio situation discussed in terms of the development of Canadian talent. It was in our survey of conditions in Canada we have heard the present radio situation discussed in terms of the development of Canadian talent.

While the present radio governing body in Canada set out with this ideal in mind, unfortunately there has been a recent reaction from this principle, with amendments that all that is in fact will be devoted to the progress of foreign origin—musical, of course, from United States sources. This reaction has been a reaction from the principle that the development of Canadian talent is one of the most important objectives of the Corporation. It was in our survey of conditions in Canada we have heard the present radio situation discussed in terms of the development of Canadian talent.

Whether or not this is the correct direction and solution of the problem, certainly it is a matter of opinion. It is a matter of opinion that a whole and all of which could receive the most general consideration.

Abolish Private Stations

Commenting on the abolition of private stations in a recent issue we said that it was not so far as we thought that privately-owned stations should be abolished as a whole.

If we are to have a thoroughly Canadian broadcasting service, said the Editor, "the privately-owned stations must be abolished. Maintained as they are, they are a constant source of trouble to the public. From commercial angles, while the private stations remain, and also much of the best talent in the country, the hope to look for the development of the private stations militates against the solution of the problem. It is the hope to look for the development of the private stations militates against the solution of the problem. It is the hope to look for the development of the private stations militates against the solution of the problem.

The same authority continues to say that the very real reason for the Corporation's acceptance of foreign advertising programs is a need for revenue, and not aggravated by the amount competition between the state enterprise and private business.

Whether or not this is the correct direction and solution of the problem, certainly it is a matter of opinion. It is a matter of opinion that a whole and all of which could receive the most general consideration.

British Statesmen Meet with Henlein Over Minority Question

London.—Kornel Henlein, leader of the German minority in Czechoslovakia, arrived in London yesterday afternoon for a meeting with British statesmen.

He is expected to discuss with Winston Churchill, Foreign Secretary, and other members of the British government, and Sir Archibald Sinclair, Secretary of State for the Home Office, the minority question in the House of Commons. He is also expected to meet with Harold Nicolson, Minister of Education, and other members of the government.

It is reported that Henlein will be accompanied by his wife and two children. He is expected to stay in London for several days.

A dispatch from Praha carried an unconfirmed report that Henlein had conferred with Chamberlain Hillier of Germany before coming to London. However, New Agency reported that London political observers believed the visit was linked with Henlein's determination to break the national pact between Czechoslovakia and Soviet Russia.

Henlein, however, was believed to be mounting out upon the possibility of a break in the national pact in exchange for his leading his minority group within the framework of Czechoslovakia.

On the day that Czechoslovakia's Minister, Jan Masarik, visited the British Foreign Office, Henlein was also expected to be in London. It is understood he saw Sir Robert Vaux, British Ambassador in Praha.

Unconfirmed sources said Churchill met the others found Henlein in a meeting room in the Foreign Office. The gravity of his program for the Czechs was laid out in Czechoslovakia in the speech April 24.

In the speech, Henlein said that the Czechs were not a minority in the Czech Republic. He said that the Czechs were a majority in the Czech Republic.

Season's First Crop Report

Indicates A Decrease Of 1,400,000 Acres From 1927

Ottawa.—A decrease of nearly 1,400,000 acres in the area sown to spring grain in Canada last year was indicated by farmers' intentions as of May 1, the Dominion bureau of statistics first crop report of the present season said.

The intended area of spring wheat was 24,100,000 acres, compared with 25,500,000 acres in 1927 and 26,600,000 acres in 1926. The total area in 1928 was 24,100,000 acres, or three per cent. The principal decrease was in the area sown to wheat.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK--

That merchandise that can stand persistent advertising makes an appeal which brings customers back time and time again.

Truthful advertising gives the public confidence—confidence in the merchandise and the concern that sells it.

Persistent advertising gains friends for a business. It proves that the advertiser has the right merchandise at the right price.

Well Advertised Merchandise Is Superior In Every Way

Good advertisement not only makes new customers, but encourages old customers to buy more.

Quality, persistently advertised, creates a desire that only possession satisfies.

THE ONLY WAY TO GET BUSINESS IS TO AFFECT IT BY ADVERTISING. GETTING BUSINESS BY ADVERTISING IS EASY, CHEAP, AND SURE.

If A buds the $5,000 to B to enable him to build the house himself, he should be given the use of the money free.

Let us at least try to preserve our common sense. There is wide difference between a fair and just rate of interest and "usury." So an unscrupulous person may justly divide that capital may legitimately demand a certain wage for its use.

Local and District

Adam Best was a business visitor in Calgary last week end.

28,000 bushels of wheat have been shipped out of Delia during the past fourteen days.

Mr. H. B. Linnet has returned from the coast for a stay at her old home in the Majestic district.

Three carloads of cattle left Delia on Friday night of last week killed for Calgary.

The City Cdr. Delia, married and owned by Des Jau and Des Jau, has been purchased by Les Fook and Les Ming.

The ceiling of the United Church was discovered to have cracked recently and the outer walls cracking. The fault was found in a frame that had given way and steps were at once taken to remedy the defect.

A tennis club has been formed in the village, and R. Daw, manager of the Bank of Commerce, is president. A few loads of gravel have been used in resurfacing the court.

Extensive improvements are in course of being carried out to the roof of the Olympia Theatre, where a pitched shingle roof is replacing the old flat type. L. Snyder has charge of the work.

Mrs. Violeta Rieger, of the Calgary Central Alberta Sashworks, spent the week with her parents in Delia. It is some time since Miss Rieger has been home and her stay now was short, as she left on Sunday.

Customs Milling, Beans and Shirts always on Sale.

Dominion Bureau of Statistics

(Issued April 21st, 1938)

Registrations of Births, Deaths and Marriages, March, 1938

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics has today the quarter of registration of births, deaths and marriages during the month of March, 1938, in 67 cities and towns of Canada having populations of 10,000 or more.

Births registered in these cities and towns during March numbered 1,207, compared with 1,207 during March, 1937, and 1,213 during March of last year, showing an increase of 4 per cent in births and decrease of 4 per cent in deaths and 3 per cent in marriages. Births registered during the three months January-March of this year totalled 3,528, compared with 3,528 during the corresponding three months of last year. This comparison shows an increase of 6 per cent in births and 4 per cent in marriages, and a decrease of 1 per cent in deaths.

Investigate Fuel Prices

Wide reports to restrict gasoline prices within certain limits in this province are expected to be given a provincial board to control the sale of this fuel.

The provincial government has announced that a board will be named to investigate gasoline prices in Alberta. That board, in all likelihood, will be given control of price fixing, and will also be empowered to restrict, and also to sell, gasoline in Alberta.

For testimony for the producer, the distributor and consumer would be the subject of the board named to control gasoline prices.

During its investigation the board would look into the spread between wholesale and retail costs of gasoline and the distribution of distribution costs, which, according to some members of the legislature, is a waste for the present level of road costs in this province.

Officials of the Alberta Motor Association have long urged a full enquiry into gasoline costs, claiming that the reduction of these costs would be a material factor in reducing the cost of the present level of road costs in this province.

Foreign Exchange

Widespread reports by Italy during the coming season in considerable volume may be expected to be given a provincial exchange difficulty probably due to the substitution of the dollar and the large quantity required may not reach new proportions as it would otherwise.

POPULARITY

Ever increasing public preference for Alberta Beers is conclusive evidence of their popularity—a POPULARITY merited by the downright goodness of products produced by efficient well-conducted institutions. APPENDICITIS

In one year appendicitis was responsible for over fourteen hundred deaths in Canada. More people died from appendicitis than from typhoid fever, measles, scarlet fever, whooping cough and diphtheria all put together. Traffic accidents are of much too frequent occurrence, but the fatalities arising out of such accidents are fewer than those due to appendicitis.

The City of Philadelphia has given particular attention to this disease. For five consecutive years, a close study has been made of all appendicitis deaths occurring in that city in order to determine the factors which contributed to the fatal outcome. At the same time, the Department of Public Health carried on an educational campaign in the hope of improving conditions. We should learn from the experience of Philadelphia in order that we may profit by it, and the findings of the Philadelphia study are presented to our readers.

Patients admitted to hospital while twenty-four hours of the onset of symptoms had a mortality of less than 2 per cent; between twenty-four and forty-eight hours, the mortality rose to over 4 per cent; when the delay was between forty-eight and seventy-two hours, it was nearly 8 per cent; after seventy-two hours, it reached over 8 per cent. From these figures summarizing the experience of a large city, it is shown that clearly that everyone may understand that the percentage of deaths rises in ratio to the delay in securing proper treatment.

There were over 15,000 cases studied. Of the total, approximately 3,000 did not have a tentative and 11,700 did; over 5,000 cases gave a tentative and 11,700 did; 229 had more than one tentative and 3 in 3 died. Those who read these figures will surely never forget that the giving of laxatives to men, women or child who has pain in the abdomen, is a most dangerous thing which can be done.

When a pain in the abdomen nothing should be taken by mouth and, above all, never a laxative. Pain which persists, is not serious, and the sooner the patient is under proper care the better, because if the condition is appendicitis, delay is dangerous, as has been clearly shown by the Philadelphia experience.

How Does Life Insurance Benefit Living Policyholders?

Answer.—It enables policyholders to build a substantial cash reserve for future needs—and at the same time ensure protection for their families.

Question.—How does Life Insurance ensure funds for retirement?

Answer.—When the need of protection is passed, the proceeds of a policy may be used to provide a guaranteed monthly income.

Q.—What percentage of Life Insurance payments are made to living policyholders?

A.—Approximately 75 per cent.

Q.—How is the balance of these payments made?

A.—In death benefits to the beneficiaries of policyholders.

Q.—How much money does Life Insurance distribute each year to living policyholders in Canada?

A.—More than $100,000,000 a year.

This is the result of a series of measures sponsored by Life Insurance Companies operating in Canada. The result, in other words, will show how Life Insurance can better finance future needs.
